DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claims 14-26 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-14 of U.S. Patent No.

6,340,514. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the foam rubber contains cylindrical protrusions, which are overlapping with applicant's Markush Group reciting circular shaped protrusions.

3. Claims 14-26 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-32 of U.S. Patent No.

6589631. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because claim 14 contains oval and octagonal shaped protrusions as in instant claims 14.

4. Claims 14-26 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claim s 1-4 of U.S. Patent No. 6,296,919. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the cylindrical protrusions are circular in shape as in the instant Markush Group.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 14-26 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection. The applicant did indicate in the response filed April 8, 2004 that appropriate terminal disclaimers would be provided to obviate the double patenting rejections. These are now kindly requested since the only outstanding rejections are of the double patenting type and can be overcome by the filing of appropriate terminal disclaimers. The application will then be in condition for allowance.
